TROOPS CALLED OUT TO QUELL IRISH RIOTS

General O'Duffy Attacked by Republican Mob

BLUE SHIRT HEAD INJURED

MOB SMASHES THROUGH POLICE CORDON

BAYONET CHARGES

DUBLIN, OCT. 7.
TROOPS WITH FIXED BAYONETS AND TEAR-GAS BOMBS WERE RUSHED FROM CORK TO TRALEE TO-DAY TO QUELL DISTURBANCES ARISING FROM THE ACTIVITIES OF GENERAL O'DUFFY, THE BLUE-SHIRT LEADER.

General O'Duffy and his second-in-command, Mr. Cronin, were injured by the rioters, who attacked their party violently.

Disorderly scenes developed from the moment that O'Duffy and Cronin attempted to enter the Convention of the United Ireland Party.

SERIOUS TRALEE DISORDERS

Serious disorders which followed rapidly got out of control of the local forces, necessitating the summoning of military eighty miles from Cork.

The rioters, who were armed with stones and batons, were apparently determined to prevent the Convention from meeting.

They surrounded O'Duffy and Cronin, who were with other delegates, and attacked them violently, several of the number being badly hurt.

O'Duffy himself was struck over the head with a blunt instrument and blood was streaming down his face.

Cronin was slightly injured about the back.

FIGHT WAY THROUGH.

Both of them successfully fought their way into the hall, which was immediately besieged by a large crowd, which engaged in the smashing of windows and wrecking of the delegates' cars.

The Civic Guard at Tralee vainly tried to form a cordon round the hall pending the arrival of the military.

The mob was in an ugly mood and broke through the cordon re-

GERMANY ADAMANT

REFUSAL TO BUDGE ON DISARMAMENT

DIFFERENCES REMAIN

London, Oct. 6.
Princes Otto von Bismarck, Acting Charge D'Affaires at the German Embassy in London, called at the Foreign Office this morning and had a conversation with Sir John Simon on the disarmament question.

It is understood that a preliminary statement was made of the German Government's attitude towards the treatment of armaments in my convention negotiations at the Geneva Disarmament Conference.

In particular, observations on the questions which had been addressed to Baron von Neurath during the recent conversations at Geneva were placed before the British Foreign Secretary.

The reveal that the German Government's attitude on the main questions upon which differences have arisen remains unchanged.

On the question of war material Germany maintains her claim.

TRANSITION PERIOD

Germany rejects the project for a transition period to give a trial to the new system of supervision and control of armaments and during which period the present inequality of armaments would be maintained without modification.

A Geneva message states that the German Government is credited with the intention of insisting on its demands for an immediate Disarmament Convention granting equality of rights.

This afternoon, Sir John Simon saw the French and Italian representatives in London and informed them of the substance of the German Government's communication. It is anticipated that it will be the subject of conversations at Geneva next week.

MONDAY'S MEETING

The Bureau of the Disarmament Conference has been summoned to meet there on Monday when Germany will be represented by Herr Nadolny, Captain Anthony Eden, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, will be the principal British delegate pending the arrival of Sir John Simon who is remaining to attend the Cabinet meeting on Monday. He is expected to leave for Geneva on Tuesday morning.—British Wireless.

CLOSING OF ARMY ROADS

LEGAL REQUIREMENT

Nanking, Oct. 6.
The province of Szechuan is faced with an unprecedented drought.

Five thousand villages are affected rendering over 41,000 families destitute.

Most of the villages have had no rain from 60 to 70 days.

Not only are all the crops withered but the scorching sun has caused extensive forest fires.

RELIEF APPEAL

At Chungking the populace have subscribed funds and made an income of 30 feet high surrounding which thousands have prayed daily.

General Liu Hsiang, Commander-in-Chief of the Szechuan forces has petitioned the Government to appropriate $4,000,000 from the American Cotton and Wheat Loan for the relief of the drought refugees.—Reuter.

LOCAL PROMOTIONS

The following military promotions have been recently gazetted: 2nd Lieuts P. G. Parker, D. A. Kayll and A. G. L. Clos (Royal Artillery), D. P. St. C. Rosser (Lincolns), D. R. Stevenson and J. B. Harvey (Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders) to be Lieutenants.

COUNTER PROPOSALS.

Geneva, Oct. 6.

German counter proposals to the recent disarmament plan set forth in the agreement drawn up by Great Britain, France and Italy are more in the nature of additions or supplementary suggestions than objections. Although details are not yet known here, the reaction is said to be unfavourable in Paris.

Reuter.

The outbreak was located in a small building isolated from the main premises within the factory compound. Flames were first observed in a cockpit, and the outbreak was already being dealt with by the factory staff when firemen arrived with an engine from Kennedy Town and two others from Central.

The job gave no great difficulty, and within a fairly short space of time danger was over.

TRADE SLACKENS

AMERICAN STATISTICS FOR SEPTEMBER

PRESIDENT'S NEW DRIVE

WASHINGTON, OCT. 6.
A NEW EFFORT IS BEING MADE BY PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT TO GIVE A SPUR TO INDUSTRIAL RECOVERY.

He announced to-night that a "Commodity Credit Corporation" will be created immediately, with an initial capital of three million dollars, and with authority to borrow from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and from the Land Fund with commodities as security.

The Corporation's initial duty will be to implement the Government's pledge to lend the cotton growers ten cents a pound on their cotton in an effort to raise prices.

Washington, Oct. 6.

The gravity of the strike situation has compelled President Roosevelt to devote almost his entire attention to this side of the industrial picture.

While recognising that the unrest in the coal industry is highly dangerous, however, the Administration is hopeful of an early improvement.

President Roosevelt has enlarged the National Labour Board from seven to eleven members to enable the Board to cope with the pressure of work which has been produced by the strikes.

Anti-inflationists construe the statement as voicing the desires of the Administration because Mr. Green is Labour Adviser to the Industrial Recovery Administration and has the confidence of the Administration on many important questions.

Inflationists contend that experience has shown that, on matters of importance, no one has thus far been authorised to speak for the President.

The campaign against inflation continues with New York as its centre and newspapers continuing to warn of its dangers.

SHORT-SIGHTED ADVOCACY.

Mr. Roger Babson, the business economist, in his report on conditions, deplores what he terms "the short-sighted advocacy of maximum inflation on the part of certain groups."

Governor Pinchot is urging the President to take personal action to bring peace to the coal industry.

NO BLOODSHED.

The strikes continue to spread, but unlike yesterday, there was no bloodshed to-day.

The recovery programme is not proceeding very happily.

Three million workers have been re-employed between March and the end of September, according to the Federation of Labour review, which however, asserts that the increase in employment has been entirely offset by the shorter hours and the higher prices ruling in the retail market.

The Federation also says that production has increased by forty-four per cent. since March, where-as the country's buying power has only increased by seventeen per cent.

GUARDS CALLED OUT.

New York, Oct. 6.

Four companies of the National Guard have been sent to Salle County, Illinois, as a result of pickets of the Progressive Union resorting to violence.

The pickets attempted to prevent mine workers returning to work on one of the Peabody Mines.

Six houses in the neighbourhood of the mine were bombed.

Electric power to the mines was cut and a railway bridge blown up by dynamite, while 1,200 pickets shot at every passer-by along 15 miles of the main road.

It is reported that 20 of the passers-by were wounded, three of them seriously.—Reuter.

JAPANESE AERODROME IN TIENTSIN?

Serious Controversy Threatening

Tientsin, Oct. 7.

Serious controversy threatens to develop between the Chinese and Japanese authorities in Tientsin over the Chinese protest against the Japanese construction of an aerodrome.

The Chinese authorities have ordered the owner, who sold the land to the Japanese for this purpose, to resume his property.

For the LOVE of EVE by Lucy Walling

CHAPTER XLII

But Eve did not give up her job at Bixby's next morning. Instead she burned the letter she had written to Dick.

"I have to keep away from Mrs. Penney and Mary," she decided. "They always put me in a sentimental mood. After all, there's no more reason why I should give up my work than that Dick should give up his!"

It would be foolish, she assured herself, to give up the comforts she enjoyed in Lake City for the privations under which she was sure Dick lived in Pine Forest.

In mid-December he wrote to her: "When it snows up here it snows and stays snowed! We have had to burrow our way through the drifts for several weeks now and there's no knowing how long it will be before this blanket of snow thaw. We have had some difficulty getting over the hills to the job because the road is almost impassable at this time of the year. Fortunately, though, we work under cover. We've had enough men on the job to make considerable progress. The two buildings are separated by a patch of woods so I have to make frequent trips back and forth, keeping an eye on both jobs at practically the same time. By night I'm pretty tired and don't need to be rocked to sleep."

Dick did not seem to mind the hardships of this life in the woods. Indeed he did not even consider such primitive surroundings as hardships. He never wrote to Eve that he missed her and she failed to read between the lines. Though each letter always concluded, "With all my love—Dick," Eve was sure they would mean more to him this year, perhaps, than at any other time. She shared with him the homemade fruit cake and Christmas cookies her mother had sent her. Kate Bayles' holiday baking took place early in December and she was generous with it. Eve packed a box of candy with a generous supply of the chocolate centred butter creams of which Dick was so fond. And in the sporting goods department of Bixby's she had found many articles of wearing apparel she felt would make his winter more comfortable. The card which Mrs. Penney designed for her bore the message, "Christmas Love to Dick."

The Saturday night before Christmas she boarded the west-bound train which would carry her to her parents' home, a 12-hour ride distant. She felt she could not endure Christmas alone in Lake City although she knew she should have saved the money spent for railway fare to help her pay her debts.

The day before Christmas a telegram for Eve was delivered at Bixby's advertising office. Arlene signed for it:

"From Pine Forest, N. Y., no doubt," she said to Mrs. Penney. "I suppose Eve's husband is wishing her an extra Merry Christmas. He certainly is the answer to a maiden's prayer—and I don't see how Eve dares to be so casual about him."

Mrs. Brooks expressed the same sentiment to her oldest son Christmas morning. The Rader doorknob had been ringing incessantly for many minutes before her own sounded. She hurried to see who her caller might be and opened the door to face Dick, who stood, hat in hand, with a worried look on his face. He all but ignored her Christmas greetings in his haste to ask about Eve.

"Oh, I'm so sorry!" Mrs. Brooks hastened to explain. "Mrs. Rader left to spend Christmas with her parents. Didn't you know?"

"I must have missed her letter telling me she was going," Dick hastened to defend Eve. "I was away from Pine Forest and didn't get my mail for a few days."

Mrs. Brooks had a key to the apartment which she gave Dick. After he had gone she shook her head mournfully. "The poor dear!" she said. "To come all that way for Christmas and then find nobody at home... I'll ask him to dinner."

Dick found himself placed next to Dorothy McElhinney at the dinner table. If he missed the company of his wife he suffered nothing from lack of solicitude. Miss McElhinney gave him her undivided attention, engaging in a sprightly conversation and causing him to laugh frequently. When the dinner came to an end Dick lingered in the pleasant living room of Mrs. Brooks' suite. Later when Miss McElhinney noticed that he was becoming restless she suggested a walk and directed his footsteps toward the theatre district.

"Let's go inside," Dick suggested as they approached the building on which he had worked so long, "I'd like to look up some of my old friends."

Dick placed Miss McElhinney in a seat and then left her while he visited in the manager's office and then went backstage.

After the matinee they followed a throng to a popular Christmas restaurant where they dined and danced. Then it was time for Dick to take the train east. He called a taxicab.

"Someone ought to see you off," Miss McElhinney said sweetly. "I'll ride to the station with you." And of this experience Dorothy McElhinney made the most. She met Eve in the hall the first evening after her return from home, and, with a maliciousness she took little pains to conceal, told of Dick's arrival and her own part in enthralling him.

"The poor man!" she purred. "I felt so sorry for him. I did my best to make him forget his loneliness."

"I dare say you did," Eve retorted and closed the door abruptly.

Dick's telegram, lying on Eve's desk when she arrived at the office that morning, had been a shock. Her Christmas at home had been most unsatisfactory, due to the fact that she missed Dick so and none of her relatives seemed to sympathize with her. Women of her mother's type knew but one code after marriage—duty to husband and family.

Eve noticed the ashes in the tray next to Dick's favourite chair. Wearily she sank into the chair and tenderly stroked the arms because Dick had been there so recently. She closed her eyes and tried to picture just how he looked, wondered whether he was thin, tired and sad looking or robust and happy. Miss McElhinney would know, she thought bitterly, and her resentment against Dick and the girl increased as she pondered over the latter's story of Dick's Christmas.

Of course they had planned it all. She had been blind to fall to see it before. That was why he had not notified her sooner of his plans. Uncontrollable sobs broke from Eve and her body shook. At last she went to bed.

It was then that she found Dick's Christmas gift. He had placed the package under her pillow. Eve drew it out and unwrapped it. Inside was a cameo pin with an old gold setting.

Of course Dick was hurt because Eve had not confided to him her plan to go home to visit her parents. She had had plenty of time to do so. It had only been the day before Christmas when he found that he could get away from work long enough to make the trip to Lake City. The severity of the winter snow storm was causing much difficulty on the job and Dick had been prepared to spend most of Christmas day at work. Thus he had been unable to foresee the change in circumstances which made it possible for him to leave.

In Eve's next letter to Dick she berated him for neglecting to let her know that he was coming. His answer was a frank retort. After reading that letter Eve had no doubt that he considered her selfish. That he was displeased with the outcome of their marriage was also evident.

Eve destroyed the flippant reply she had composed. She had the grace to admit to herself that the present situation was her own fault. But something perverse in her nature prevented her telling Dick this.

INDIA POLICIES.

LIVELY DEBATE AT PARTY PARLEY

London, Oct. 6.

A lively debate on the Government's Indian policy took place at the Conservative Party Conference at Birmingham to-day.

Lenders asked for the support of a resolution voicing apprehension in regard to a white paper's proposals concerning finance, police and the welfare of the Indian peoples, as well as the trade discrimination against Britain.

Lord Lloyd said the proposals would render Britons aliens in India.

The Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain, on behalf of the Government, said the proposal contained ample safeguards in respect to defence and trade discrimination, and an amendment urging the delegates to suspend judgment until the Select Committee reported, was carried by 787 to 344 votes.—Reuters.

CORONER'S INQUEST

ALLEGED REFUSAL OF HOSPITAL ADMISSION

A Coronor's enquiry into the death of a coolie, Chan Sze-wing, who died in the Government Civil Hospital after a fall from a lorry while in motion, was commenced before Mr. Schofield, sitting as Coronor at the Central Magistracy yesterday afternoon, and further adjourned until next Thursday, October 12, at 2.30 p.m. The jury was composed of Messrs. J. B. McDonald, foreman, F. H. Faro and Tsung Po-tong.

Dr. Thomas, of the Government Civil Hospital, said that death was due to a fracture of the skull and contusion of the brain. The deceased's skull was rather abnormal, in that it was thinner than that of average skull. It was like a child's skull.

Lam Chun-ju, who was seated next to the driver, said that on September 15 the lorry was being driven along Connaught Road, Central. It carried a mattress and two wooden benches. Two coolies were seated in the back of the lorry. It was being driven at an ordinary speed, and turned into Murray Road at the same speed. One of the coolies then fell off. He did not see the man fall off, but heard a shout and the lorry was stopped. The deceased was lying on the road about three feet behind the lorry.

Evidence of Companion.

Li Luk, the coolie who was seated in the back with the deceased, said that the lorry was travelling at a fast speed, and turned into Murray Road at that speed. It swerved swiftly, and the deceased was thrown off. The deceased was not holding on to anything. Deceased was lying about three feet behind the lorry when it stopped. Witness felt a jerk when the lorry turned into Murray Road. When taken to the Government Civil Hospital admission was refused, and they were told to report the matter first to the police. This he had heard from another man.

Lo Wing, the driver of the lorry, stated that it was proceeding along Connaught Road about 15 miles an hour, and he slowed down when turning into Murray Road to nine miles an hour. This witness also alleged that the hospital had refused admittance to the man until the matter had first been reported to the police. He further said that after the lorry had stopped, the mattress had fallen off the benches, which had also fallen on their sides.

At this stage, Mr. Schofield adjourned the hearing to enable the Government Civil Hospital authorities to give evidence explaining the refusal of admittance which the two witnesses had complained of.

SPANISH CRISIS

ZAMORA'S DILEMMA

Madrid, Oct. 6.

Having failed to solve the political impasse caused by the resignation of Senor Lerroux's Cabinet, the alternative has been taken by President Zamora, who is now attempting to coalesce the contending parties into a government by national conciliation.

The independent Republican, Senor Don Jose Pedregal, former Minister of Finance in the Royalist regime, has declined the President's invitation. Dr. Maranon has now informed the President that he will endeavour to form a Cabinet on a basis of national conciliation.

Meanwhile, the Lerroux Government, although it has resigned, continues to function as an acting administration, while the slogan of the Socialists, whose real leader is ex-Premier Azana, is "Revolution to the bitter end."—Reuters.

NEW POLICY IN RADIIUM USAGE

DESIRABILITY OF MASSIVE UNITS

London.

An important announcement of policy on the use of a large unit of radium is made in "The Lancet."

The Radium Beam Therapy Research has been lent five grammes of radium which will be available without charge except for that involved in its safe conduct and maintenance.

"Rather more than a year ago the Radium Commission decided to disassemble the large simple unit of radium entrusted to its care and to make other use of the smaller units into which it was divided," states "The Lancet."

"This decision provoked a good deal of public criticism at the time, but the policy of the Commission was endorsed by a conference of leading members of the medical profession....

"The Conference went on to appoint a technical committee to inquire into the scientific case for mass radiation by radium and to determine the advantages and dangers attaching to the use of such radiation.

SAFETY ASSURED.
"All the evidence before us," said this technical committee, "goes to show that the use of massive units of even the largest dimensions can be so completely controlled that the safety of the patient is assured.... We are satisfied that there is no foundation for the idea that the use of a massive unit is necessarily associated with any special danger to the patient.... We are convinced that a large radium unit should be erected in this country, under conditions where such coordinated effort is possible, consisting of not less than five grammes of radium element."

"The conference adopted without hesitation the view of its technical committee that such a unit should be established."

Since then a body known as the Radium Beam Therapy Research has been formed and the Union Miniere du Haut Katanga, which has at its disposal a large amount of radium, has agreed to lend it five grammes of radium element and later, if necessary, a further five grammes.—Reuter.

SHOEBURYNESS FIRE OUTBREAK

SOLDIERS SAVE THE TOWN FROM TEAR-GAS

The activities of six hundred soldiers saved the town of Shoeburyness, Essex, from being enveloped in clouds of teargas recently when a field caught fire within the boundaries of the Royal Artillery Garrison, Shoeburyness, and threatened to destroy a large gas chamber.

Every soldier in the barracks was called out by the orders of the Commandant, Colonel M. E. Mascall. The men fought the fire with sticks and wet sacks, and within half an hour extinguished it, but not before the flames had scorched the sides of the hut containing the gas. The strong wind blowing towards the east would have carried the gas directly over the town.

Within sixty yards of the dead embers there is stored over fifty tons of high explosive ammunition.

Sentries have been posted near the scene of the fire to ensure that there is no recurrence of the outbreak.

PROBLEMS

Residents sufficiently interested to have made a study of the proposed regulations for the control of cabarets in the Colony will have noted the coiledness of their appearance with a certain street brawl alleged to have involved two rival parties of indolence. One youth was sent to hospital with a wound in the back, another was fined $100 for possession of a dangerous weapon, described as a life-preserver. The trouble seems to have been the culmination of a series of disputes. On the surface, the coiledness seems a rather unhappy one, giving point more effectively than anything else could do, to some of the uncertainties of the more undesirable possibilities which it is sought officially to control by a mass of provisions for the control of dancing establishments. The incident focused official attention on this aspect more strongly than ever, and there is an inclination in some quarters to attach more importance to the affair and its relation to the cabarets than is warranted. No direct connection has, in fact, been established. Strong reason exists for a suspicion that the trouble originated over a dancing-partner, but we gather, from the fact that nothing developed in the police court proceedings showing any definite reason for the occurrence, that investigations ended in a deadlock. It is not strictly material, in any event. Dancing establishments cannot be saddled straightway with responsibility for what goes on in the next street, although it will be agreed that repetitions would justify a closer scrutiny, just as it is reasonable to assume that none of the regulations likely to be enforced would have been inserted without cause or necessity. It has to be recognised that there are dangers in the mere existence of public dancing establishments. Were it not plain, and accepted, that a source of immorality might easily arise in them, there would be no controversy and no regulations. Mrs. Grundy would be prying in other directions. When, however, the question of control is considered, it has to be admitted that existing establishments in the Colony are, in the main, quite well managed; they differ from other places where dancing is a popular recreation only by the provision made for the supply of professional partners. The regulations, stringent as they are, have caused no excitement among those chiefly concerned; they do not involve any drastic overhauling of existing arrangements. Formalities such as the keeping of registers are now required. But it is only on the midnight curfew decision that any sense of grievance is felt.

NOTES OF THE DAY

FUTURE OF THE FRANC

London refuses to believe that the gold standard on the Continent can survive. France is facing an unbalanced budget of roughly $150,000,000 on top of last year's budget deficit. Taxation is still rising. Advice received in banking quarters give France only a few weeks in gold, the suggestion being that the short way out of budget difficulties will be taken by devaluating the currency. The loss looks simple. Devaluation by, say, 20 per cent. would increase the value of the gold held by the Bank of France by the same proportion. This additional value would accrue to the Treasury, and there you are. It is, of course, not quite so simple and for the present, at any rate, the French Government appears to be determined to remain strictly attached to gold. Many people wonder in the meantime what would be the future gold should France go "off". A mere commodity useful in the arts? Two reasons seem to be opposed to such a view. First, there are huge gold stocks in the hands of Governments representing solid reasons for maintaining the value of the metal. Second, there is the fact that eventually some international standard will have to be restored, and none has yet been discovered that is likely to meet the measure of support attained by gold.

SPAIN'S PROBLEM

President Zamora's solution of the Spanish ministerial crisis is, perhaps, the best in highly difficult circumstances. A Cabinet of National Conciliation would conform to the necessity of playing for time. The recent elections showed clearly that unless General Azana was prepared to divert the vast energy which he devoted to the solution of Spain's problems to the more important task of building up a powerful Republican political machine, his days as Prime Minister were numbered. While the Republicans fight each other, the Right wing elements are gathering ground and this is a grave danger for Spain. The day will, of course, come when the Right will govern, but the present hyper-sensitive state of the masses, be they Communist, Anarchist or Socialist, with regard to any suspicion of Fascism, would make the advent of a Government of the Right at present the signal for a wave of popular disorders which would bring about chaos. Azana's resignation was not unexpected and Lerroux's failure was equally predictable. Nevertheless, stability demands that they shall have an important voice in Spain's affairs. Nothing could be more pernicious than an attempt by the Right to seize upon their present temporary advantage.

THE AMERICAN SCENE

The outbreaks of violence in America are an almost inevitable result of one of the spectacular by-products of the Recovery Act, namely, the rapid advance of the unionisation of industry. Mr. Green claims that membership of the Federation of Labour has increased to four millions and his prophecy that it will grow to ten millions is probably not over-optimistic. Conflict in these circumstances is as certain as the day. The highly individualistic leaders of American industry are hardly likely to abandon their private prejudices without putting up a stiff fight for what they regard in the light of self-preservation. Strikes are the outcome, with the usual American accompaniment of violence. It is safe, however, to regard the present situation as an unpleasant but passing phase.

BANK OBSTACLE

Mr. Roosevelt's real problem is still that of discovering ways and means of expanding the nation's credit facilities. The crux of the matter is whether he can force the banks to give credit so as to tide industry over the gap between higher costs and delayed profits. The forcing of credit looks like a paradox. On the other hand the United States is a land of paradox. The banks are proving difficult to Mr. Roosevelt. Their responsibility is to those who have placed their funds and their faith in them. After the nightmare of six months ago they are twice shy. Yet they are now invited to stake nothing less than their whole solvency on an unproved political experiment.

THE OTHER JAPAN

By E. L. ALLEN

We have come to a mountain-village in Japan, to a group of houses and hovels clinging to the slope. A school, a post office, and half-a-dozen ill-stocked shops keep up some sort of contact with the outside world. A restaurant has just been opened on the outskirts, with glaring lights when dusk falls and women standing in the open doorway.

We step inside one of those houses, and what do we find? A man lies dying upstairs, his body rigid with paralysis and eaten by syphilis; he is paying the price of a lifetime of inebriety and lust. By his side a dwarf is stretched, scarcely a human figure at all, his body shrinking continually by a hideous disease, till it is like a baby's with a man's head on it.

The Family

That is all we find inside the house, except one daughter, who is busy preparing the midday meal. The mother is out. In the fields, picking mulberry leaves to feed the silkworms, though there is talk in the village of something in America called a "depression", which means the silk will not be wanted. The second son is the breadwinner of the family, and he went out at dawn to work in the forge next door. The rest are from home. The eldest son is in prison for Communist propaganda in the first instance and now for robbery with murder as well. There were once two other daughters, but hunger was too sore to allow them to be thought of as human beings. They became marketable commodities, and one is now a prostitute in Korea; while the other, sold at first as a dancing girl, has failed at that and taken her place, too, in the licensed quarters of a great city. At this very moment, while we are looking on, a knock comes at the door and a postman delivers a letter. It is the calling-up notice for the second son; the breadwinner of the family to be taken away for two years' military service.

What is this? you ask. Is it the background for a "realistic" novel? Yes, but it is something more as well. It is a snapshot of the other Japan, the Japan we know so little about, taken by the keen, observant eye of Kagawa. The story of this family we are seeing is told in his book "A Grain of Wheat", which has just appeared in English dress. The preface is dated 1930, and it has run already through 150 editions, while its appeal has been transferred to the stage and the film. It is novel, sermon, economics, politics, and various other things at once, like most of what "I bet papa gets set again. He just bid five spades."

BULLS AND BIRDS

From the Office Birds

A reader wants to know why America continues to ship gold bars to Europe. It's a better method than throwing them across.

It's the little things that count, as a certain tsipai said, toying with a portable adding machine.

"Burglar Steals Trousers." Male bags missing?

We hear of a man who won a walking championship three years running. What on earth were the judges doing?

A recent visitor expressed the opinion that the modern Chinese flapper is just like a doll. We doubt however whether she squeaks "Ma-ma" when pressed.

Airmen should make good nudists. They are quite accustomed to taking off!

The local hockey prospect is said to be good. That's bully!

We overheard a lady complain that her neighbours' servants were terribly noisy. Empty vases make most sound.

Once upon a time, a gin could be bought in Hongkong for twenty cents. The good old days!

Week-end weather: The low pressure belt over the China sea having been tightened, and local disturbances modified, prevailing conditions will remain throughout their duration for the time being. The future outlook is somewhat distant.

Co-Operation the Key

Co-operation is the key which opens all doors. Any problem which village life presents can be solved by it. Why not a co-operative wedding, for example? A co-operative wedding! someone says in amazement. Yes, why not? Here is a young couple who wish to marry, but must take twelve months to save up enough for the wedding-feast. Why not each guest put in twenty sen to a common fund, and also act the part of host as well?

FUTURE OF INDIA

CONSERVATIVE REBELS WITHSTOOD

CHALLENGE TO GOVERNMENT

London, Oct. 6. The Government's proposals for Indian Constitutional Reform were discussed at the Conservative Conference at Elmbridge this afternoon, on a resolution proposed which recorded confidence in the Government but represented to the Parliamentary Joint Select Committee on Indian reform that apprehension was felt regarding the proposals concerning Finance, Defence, Police, the welfare of Indian peoples and trade discrimination.

Sharp differences of opinion were revealed when an official amendment was moved proposing that any final conclusion on the White Paper policy should be delayed pending the report of Joint Select Committee.

In supporting the original resolution, Lord Lloyd, Lord FitzAlan, Marquis Hartington and others represented that the White Paper proposals were fraught with dangers to the Empire.

GOVERNMENT REPLY.

Replying to the debate, Mr. Neville Chamberlain said the resolution really aimed at arresting the proposal for central self-government in India and at confining themselves to something less than the recommendations of the Simon Commission, namely provincial autonomy in one or two centres first. That was a direct challenge to the Government.

While the resolution professed confidence in the Government it really amounted to a vote of want of confidence in the Government's Indian policy.

He suggested the Conference might well hear what the Select Committee thought before setting themselves up to judge this difficult question. The resolution was defeated and the official amendment carried by 707 votes to 344.

COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

With the re-assembly of the Joint Select Committee, the section of the Conservative Party, led by Mr. Winston Churchill has intensified its campaign against any "aberration" of British rule in India, particularly the transfer of the police and judiciary to Indian ministers.

The revolt was brought to a head at the Conservative Party Conference by the moving of the resolutions really condemning the Government's policy of "handing over executive responsibility to Indian politicians" and seeking to defer any great constitutional changes in India before the decision of the country has been taken at a general election.

Meanwhile, the Joint Select Committee is continuing the detailed examination of the question begun nearly six years ago with the appointment of the Simon Commission. When the evidence of the manifold interests concerned is completed about the middle of November, the Committee will draw up a report on the basis of which constitutional proposals are expected to be submitted to Parliament next year.—Reuter.

INCIDENT ON THE BORDER

SOVIET FORCE WAY INTO MANCHUKUO

SHOTS EXCHANGED

Harbin, Oct. 3.

Word received from Pogranitchnaya, on the Soviet-Manchukuo border, to-day indicated that the Manchukuo border police force and Soviet soldiers exchanged shots on October 1 when the Soviet soldiers attempted to force their way into Manchukuo.

At about eight o'clock on Sunday night, the Soviet Consul at Pogranitchnaya, accompanied by several Soviet soldiers, fully armed, passed the third watch-tower of the eastern section of the Chinese Eastern Railway without the permission of the border police, according to the report.

The Manchukuo police ordered the car to stop at that point but the Soviet officials refused to obey, the report said. The first shot was fired by the Manchukuo police, whereupon the Soviet soldiers fled into Soviet territory, firing revolvers at the Manchukuo police as they did so.

Following the incident, the Soviet Consul protested to the Japanese military authorities by telephone and asserted that he would file a formal protest with the Japanese Government.

SAINTS TALLY NINE AGAINST TAMAR

LOCAL HOCKEY.

The St. Andrew's Club, who are meeting the German Club in their first Manak Hockey Tournament on Tuesday morning, enjoyed an easy victory over H.M.S. Tamar, whose team they defeated by nine goals to nil in a friendly fixture played on the Navy ground, King's Park, yesterday afternoon.

The Saints' forwards combined well and were in bright scoring mood. The Tamar's left, full-back played a stout game, his clearances being featured by hard hits. Guest, the Saints' skipper and centre-half, was a splendid stopper and fed his forwards with neat passes.

At the interval, the Saints led by 3-0, Mackay (2) and Fincher finding the net. In the second half, Arthur Harrison did some good work on the right wing. Mackay and Fincher each scored two further goals, the second shot of Fincher being a brilliant reverse stick effort. Gilechrist also scored one and Guest broke through to net the ninth goal.

F. V. Wong, the Saints' left back, was seriously ill recently, made a welcome return, and together with Pat White, proved a stalwart pair. St. Andrew's Club—R. H. Wong, E. H. P. White, F. V. Wong; E. ## FLYING AMBULANCES LATEST LIFE-SAVING DEVELOPMENT SCHEME APPROVED

London. Flying ambulances are Great Britain's latest life-saving development.

Official approval has been given by the Air Ministry to the scheme prepared by the British Red Cross Society for the organisation of Air Ambulance Detachments, and the Society has now arranged to begin recruiting.

Such detachments have already been formed by the Surrey and East Lancashire branches of the Society, both of which own aeroplanes, and others are in course of enrolment.

Every member of Air Ambulance detachments will be trained to give first aid, and to load stretcher cases into and out of aeroplanes.

Although in normal times, states the Society, the detachments will not have their own aeroplanes, their members will have special qualifications for dealing with urgent medical cases, such as the transport of patients to hospital by aeroplane or the carrying of doctors and nurses to the scene of accidents. In time of war they would be available for duty with the Air-Medical-Transport-Service.

AT FULL STRENGTH.

At full strength the Air Ambulance Detachment, which will consist of men, or of men and women, is one Commandant, three pilots, two "ground" engineers, two mechanics and one clerk.

The Commandant must hold a certificate in First Aid and a "B" licence. He, or she, should also hold a navigator's 2nd class licence.

Each pilot must hold a certificate in first aid and a "B" licence. In a detachment, the Commandant of which does not hold a navigator's 2nd class licence, one of the pilots should, if possible, hold one of these.

Circulars have now been sent to all flying clubs in the country asking them to get into touch with the country director of the Red Cross, who is the officer responsible for the organisation of Air Ambulance Detachments in their district.—Reuter.

Don and Sally, already popular in Hongkong will be one of the chief attractions at the opening of the Rose Room at the Peninsula Hotel to night, when they will appear in some new dance numbers.

Sydney, N.S.W. It happened at 6.15 p.m. at a busy spot near the entrance to a city railway station.

Two men were standing talking on the edge of the pavement. The policeman on traffic duty eyed them sternly once or twice, but they went on talking.

Finally the policeman went up to them and said: "Look here, you fellows have been here long enough. It's time you moved on."

The two men eyed each other, and without a further word, went away in opposite directions.

One of them was Mr. Aubrey Abbott, Federal member for Gwydir, and ex-Minister of the Crown; the other, Mr. W. H. Childs, Commissioner for Police.—Reuter.

Pepsodent announces a notable new discovery

—an entirely new cleansing and polishing material that is twice as soft as polishing materials commonly used in tooth pastes. Gives teeth a higher polish, brighter lustre—FILM stains disappear completely.

THE Pepsodent Laboratories announce a revolutionary discovery—a new cleansing and polishing material for tooth paste. For six months Pepsodent Tooth Paste has contained this remarkable new material. It possesses three exclusive virtues:

1. It stands unexcelled in removing dull, destructive FILM.
2. Its texture is invisibly fine. Thus, it imparts a higher polish to enamel—a brilliant glaze or lustre.
3. It is soft—yes, twice as soft—as polishing materials in common use.

Yet in taste and appearance Pepsodent is still the Pepsodent you have always known. In results and safety it is new—brand new.

Pepsodent—special FILM-removing tooth paste

Removing FILM is, and always will be, Pepsodent's chief duty. Today's Pepsodent performs that duty better than ever before. Its new cleansing and polishing material brings a change in teeth's appearance within a few days' time.

Get a tube of Pepsodent today. See how quickly and safely it rids your teeth of decay-producing film—how it polishes them to sparkling brilliance.

"MY LIPS BETRAY"
NEXT WEEK

Thanks to the local exhibitors of the Fox Film Company, Hongkong is to be given another cinema treat next week, when the latest Fox success, "My Lips Betray", comes to the King's Theatre.

It will succeed "The Good Companions" making its bow to the local public on Tuesday.

It is without interest to note that Hongkong is the third city in the world to receive this picture, and that it is not due for a run at the London Tivoli until December.

Lillian Harvey is featured in this light musical romance with John Boles, and other prominent players including that inimitable comedian of "Just Imagine" fame, El Brendel.

A MUSSOLINI GESTURE

HELPS IMPOVERISHED OLD MEN

AND ASSISTS IN HAULING GUN

Garezzio, Piedmont.

By two characteristic actions recently Signor Mussolini has further endeared himself to the hearts of the people of Italy.

He was attending the military manoeuvres here, and as he passed through a little Alpine village in the "war zone" an old man of eighty quavered "I must talk to Mussolini!" The Duce pulled up the fast racing car he was driving, jumped out, shook hands with the villagers who welcomed him, and listened patiently to the tale of poverty of the old man. "I, too, know what it means to be poor," said Mussolini, and thrust a roll of bank notes into the old man's hand. Before the astonished recipient could recover or give thanks he had jumped into his car again, and driven off.

"I'LL GIVE YOU A HAND".

The second instance occurred as he was driving up the Briccheto Pass. Signor Mussolini met a battery struggling with a 105 gun. "Wait a second," he shouted at the top of his voice "I'll give you a hand," and getting out of his car again he tugged with all his might, obeying the orders of the non-commissioned officer in charge, and labouring under the grilling noonday sun with the perspiration pouring down his face.

In every village through which he passed, the Duce had to stop since the entire population had turned out to welcome him. One old woman to whom he talked said, as he departed, "thank you Mussolini. Now I can die in peace." "Don't do that," he re-piled laughing, "or I shall have you on my mind."

He was smiling practically all day long and seemed to be happy, but never more so than when he marched for a mile at the head of a battalion of the 67th Infantry regiment at a quick pace or when he was talking to reservists of his own Bersaglieri regiment about episodes of the Great War.

He halffed several of the older men by name.

WITNESSES FIGHT.

At another place he paused outside a vineyard and asked the bus owner about vintage prospects. He kissed the children, shook hands with the men and women and was off again.

Before witnessing a fight between two contingents of fast troops at Brie Boccola he carefully examined their equipment.

He and King Victor Emmanuel met in Tunaro Valley. Each left his car for a short talk in the road and then went their way.

NEW CUP RULES PASSED

F.A. TO CONTROL GOVERNOR'S CUP

SOUTH CHINA UNLUCKY

The executive announcement made yesterday in this Telegraph of alterations to rules of the Football Association last night, where the new regulations were passed.

The chief point is that the management of the competition passes into the hands of the Football Association.

(1) The competition is no longer between teams of the F.A. and the C.L.A.A.

(2) It will be run on a knock-out system of teams and teams matches, with a decided winner in a limited round if necessary.

REQUEST REJECTED.

A highly important matter before the Council was the question of South China and their league fixtures. The Chinese sought permission to postpone them until the team returned from South, but this was refused.

A full report of the meeting follows.

Major G. M. Maynard presided. A letter was read from the C.L.A.A. stating that they had long intended to visit their rival team to thank the Chinese for their visit and asked that the team should return to the C.L.A.A. until the end of October, they should be allowed to postpone their League games until later in the season.

A similar request was received in regard of the junior side the letter stating that several of the players had gone with the senior side to Shantou on vacation.

It was stated that the S.C.A.A. had been notified that the fixtures would be put before the League Management Committee.

NO COMMENT NECESSARY.

The chairman invited comments on the matter and Mr. E. T. James remarked that none were necessary. He suggested that they be allowed to postpone Saturday's match only. It was impossible to dis-arrange the League further.

The Chairman: Some action must be taken by this Council.

Capt. Williams: They did not ask permission to tour.

Mr. James: They did not need to ask permission. It is not necessary according to the rules. They have chosen to go but they must fulfil their League fixtures.

The Chairman: We will forget the question as to whether they had permission or not. What we are interested in is that they have asked to be allowed to postpone their 1st and 2nd team matches.

COMMITTEE'S DECISION.

Capt. Williams mentioned that it was a matter for the League Management Committee and Mr. James suggested that that committee retire for a few moments to consider the question.

This was agreed to and after a brief retirement it was reported that the committee had decided that no postponement be allowed, and the recommendation was carried by the council on the motion of Capt. Mitchell, seconded by Mr. J. Ralston. Mr. Bush was the only member to vote against.

Mr. Bush stated that the South China Athletic Association and the Chinese Athletic had agreed to field a side for the Governor's Cup game on Tuesday, the announcement being greeted with applause.

It was reported that Hon. Mr. R. H. Kotewall had written resigning from the position of vice-president and that Mr. M. K. Lo had been invited to fill the vacancy and had accepted.

GOVERNOR'S CUP RULES.

On the motion of Mr. James, seconded by Capt. Williams, the following rules were passed in connexion with the Governor's Cup competition:

1. The competition shall be called the Governor's Challenge Cup Competition and shall be under the management of the Hongkong Football Association.

2. This Cup shall be competed for annually on the League system by two teams representing respectively the Chinese and Non-Chinese Clubs in membership of the Association.

3. The Non-Chinese team shall be selected by the Council of the Hongkong Football Association. The Chinese team shall be selected by a Committee consisting of representatives of the Chinese teams in the first division of the Hongkong Amateur Football League.

4. The winners of the competition shall hold the Cup until next competition.

5. There shall be no entrance fee. Home and away matches shall be played and a draw made annually for the choice of ground for the first match. A deciding match shall be played on a ground fixed by the Council. Duration of play shall be ninety minutes. In the event of a deciding match should the score be equal at the end of time, an extra ten minutes shall be played each way.

6. Referees and Linesmen shall be appointed by the Referee Committee from the Official list of referees and fees shall be paid as follows:—Referee $6.00 per match; Linesmen $3.00 per match.

BEATEN BY K.C.C.

Yesterday there was an astonishing lack of team work. Bailey, who started the tour so well, was in wretched form, and although Main at No. 2 strove hard throughout and met with deserved success here and there, only Charles Richards maintained consistently good form.

Shanghai have become notoriously bad-starters. Yesterday they allowed Kowloon Cricket Club to obtain a useful lead, and although they managed to knock it off by the half way stage, they suffered a perfectly natural reaction and collapsed on the last few heads.

Silkstone skipped the Cub rink with rare judgment and skill, and Howe at No. 2 gave splendid support. They, together with Richards, were the best bowlers on the green, the remainder displaying varying form.

The full scores of the match were:

Shanghai Victoria

A. A. Malcolm H. Hampton

T. G. Main J. Howe

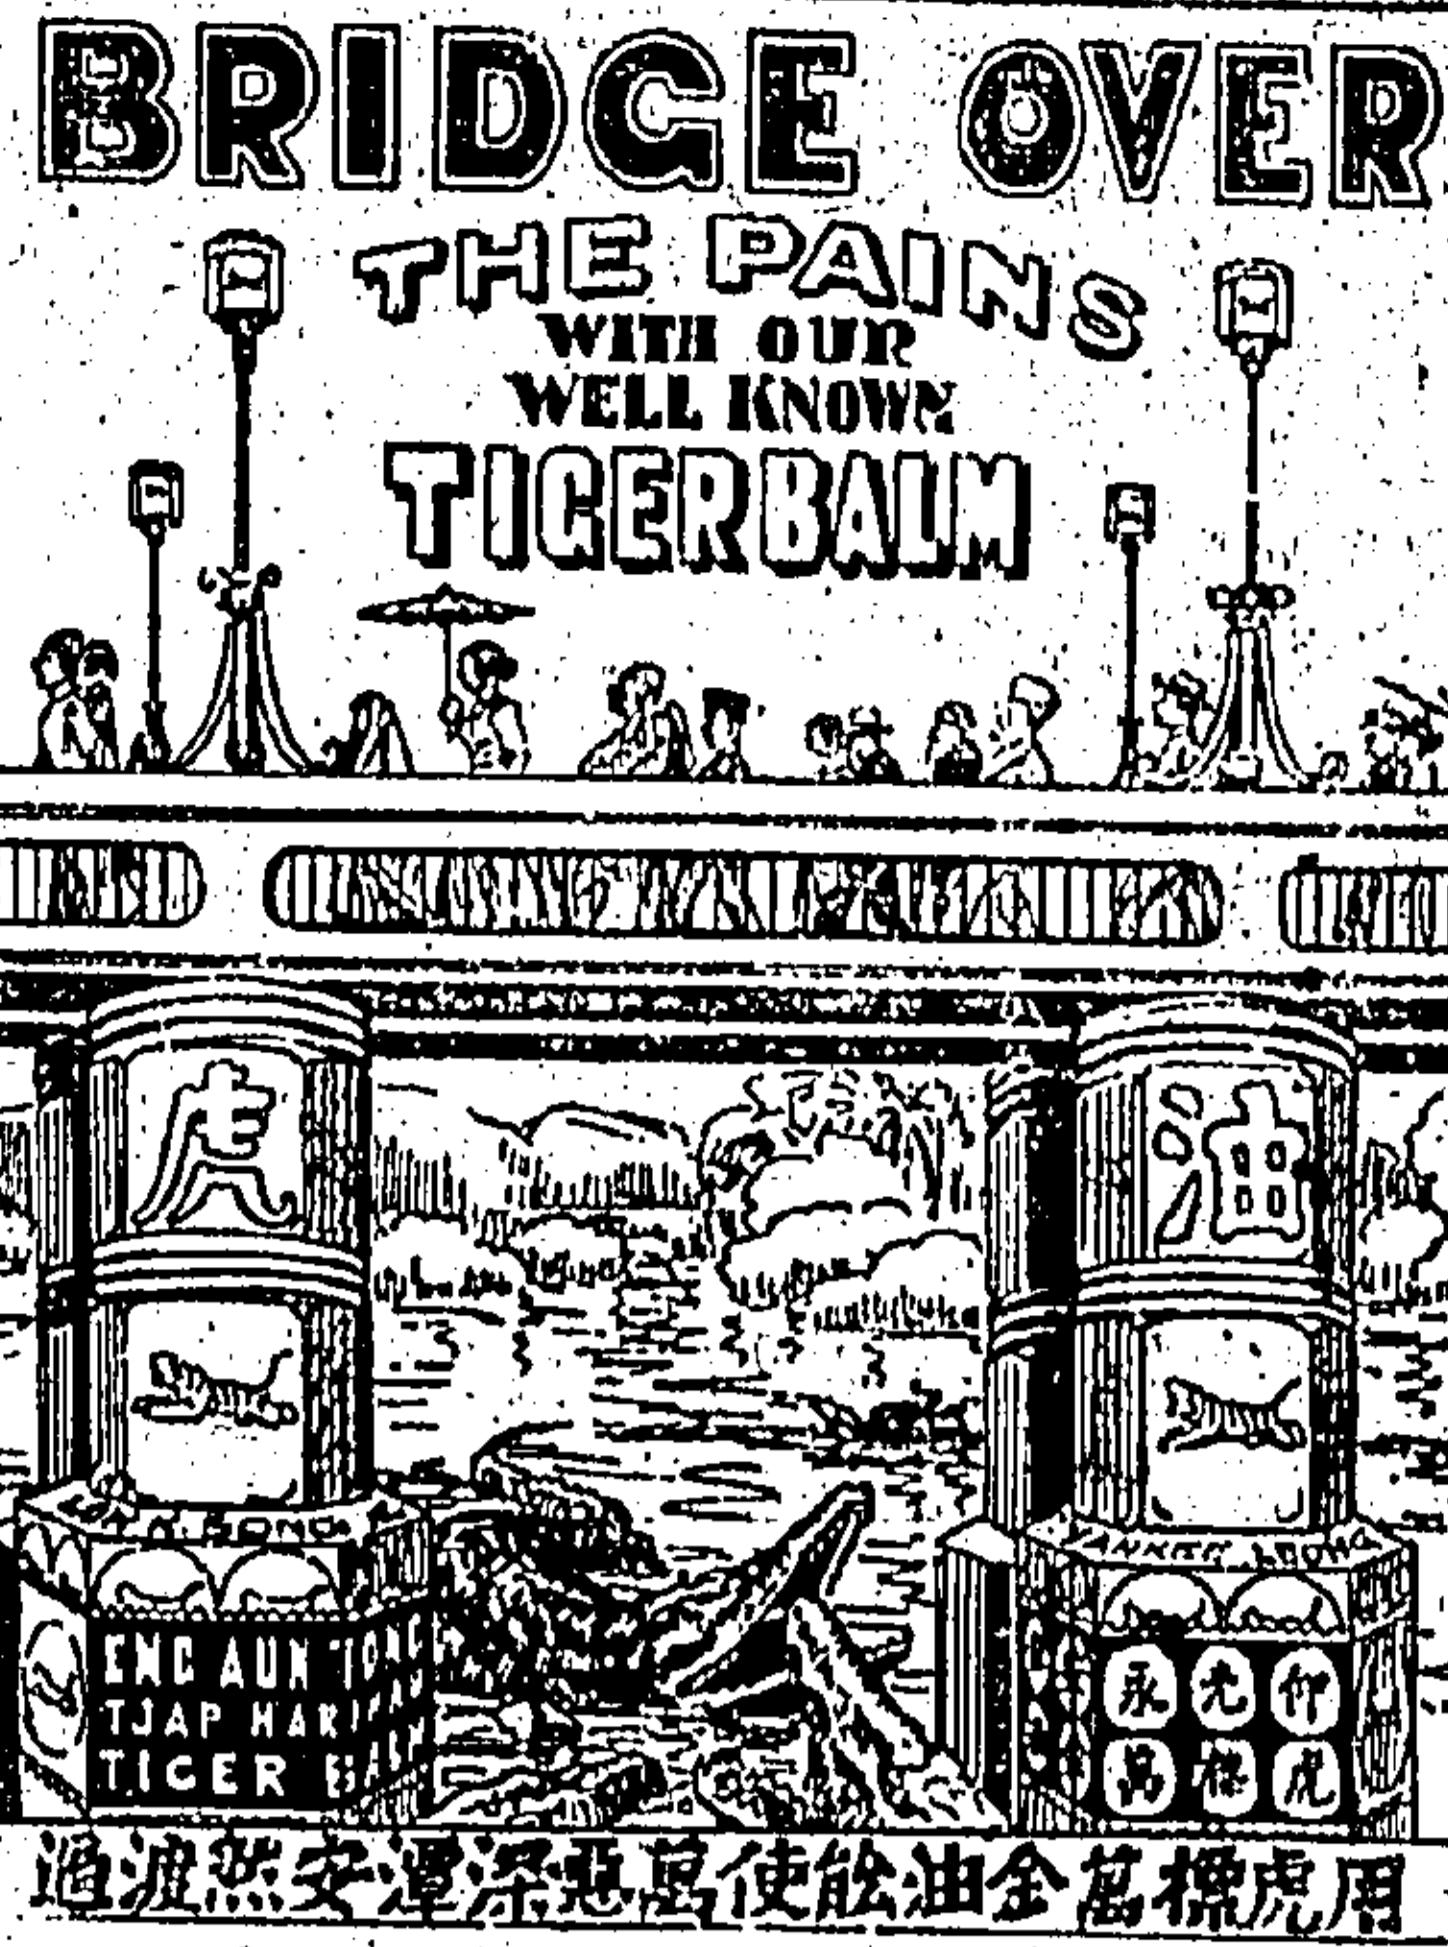

W. A. Bailey F. Goodwin

C. Richards A. E. Silkstone

NOTES SUPPLIED BY THE THEATRES

"It's all in learning the swing that goes with the racket."

That's how Lee Tracy explains how he can portray a reporter or a columnist, a soldier or a politician. The great American trick of idiom is the answer. Every culling has its own language nowadays, says Lee—and he keeps up on all of it.

That's how he blends legal verbiage and underworld slang in his latest role, in "The Nunance," coming next Thursday to the Queen's Theatre, and created a shyster lawyer character that is one of the most amazing of his diversified roles.

"He's an ambulance-chasing shyster," explains Tracy. "He deals mainly with crooks, so he picks up their lingo. Bill, he's gone through law college and knows the court pattern too. So we mix the two together, and we have the kind of shyster you can see hanging around almost any police court or ball-and-joint in any city in the world."

"I like the role. Had a chance to show some of the inside facts of the ambulance racket, as it's practiced in big cities, with faked injuries, damage claims and all that. There's a drive on it here and there right now. It's in the newspapers—and I like roles as modern as that."

"The Good Companions"

It will always be a matter of conjecture which of two very famous actors would best create the part of Jean Oakroyd, in the film "The Good Companions," since only one of them could play the role in the film.

Originally Victor Saville selected Henry Ainley, the celebrated Shakespearean actor, for the role. Filming had proceeded for about three weeks when Mr. Ainley was taken seriously ill. As his recovery was a question of weeks, the film could not be held up for so long a period, so filming had to commence all over again with Edmund Gwenn filling Henry Ainley's role.

The actors, of course, are old friends. Between filming Gwenn found time to visit the other "Jew" in the musical home, and to console with him on his loss of a very fine part.

Edmund Gwenn accepted the role at a few hours' notice. He was greatly worried at not having time to study his part before filming commenced. However, that hasn't spoilt his performance, and his portrayal with its Yorkshire dialect is sheer delight.

"The Good Companions" is showing at the King's Theatre to-day.

"King Kong"

In Hollywood there is man who makes the sphinx seem talkative.
Not even the employers know his secret.

He is Willis O'Brien, from Oakland, California—a miracle man who can revive the past! He pulls prothoracic monsters, seventy-five feet long, out of his hat! He makes to-day yesterday—yesterday to-day.

In the man of the hour on the RKO-Radio lot, for without him that studio's great bid for screen immortality would be impossible. The bid is "King Kong" completed after more than two years of production effort conducted behind locked and guarded studio doors.

For "King Kong" O'Brien conjured, magically, among other things, animals that thrived from seven to thirty-five million years ago, including a tyrannosaurus, a stegosaurus, a brontosaurus, a pterodactyl.

The largest of these, tyrannosaurus, weighed thirty tons, is twenty feet high and measured fifty feet in length.
The pterodactyl, a flying reptile, had a wing spread of twenty-five feet.

These, moreover, can be considered more samples of his ingenuity, for he created an ape fifty feet tall, thirty six feet around the chest and weighing between fifteen and twenty tons.

The story, fantastically told by Merlin
C. Cooper and Edgar Wallace, is based upon the situation which arises when the mammoth ape becomes fascinated with a beautiful young white woman he captures in the jungle. For her he battles prehistoric monsters to the death, and in the end makes an attack upon civilization itself.

Fay Wray, Robert Armstrong, Bruce Cabot and Sam Hardy are in the cast. "King Kong" opens at the Central Theatre to-day.

"Rasputin and the Empress"

The ill-fated Russian family, Rasputin the Mad Monk, those machinations that wrecked the empire, and the pomp and panoply of the most colourful royal court in the world all come to life under the magic spell of John, Ethel and Lionel Barrymore.

"Rasputin and the Empress,"

fall of the Romanovs, now playing at the Queen's Theatre.

Here is modern history—the inside of the plots, counterplots, intrigues and orgies in the shadow of a tottering throne. Only slightly fictionalized, it breathes veritable life.

John Barrymore as the romantic Prince Chegoloff, victim of Rasputin's plotting and later his nemesis;

Ethel Barrymore as the tragic Czarina, blushing herself for the illness of the little son whom she loves more than life; Lionel as the wily Rasputin in ruling an empire though its supernatural monarch—all fairly live their remarkable roles.

The Czar is reincarnated in the perfect makeup and acting of Ralph Morgan. The little Czarovitch lives again in Ted Alexander and such historic personages are brought to life
as the beautiful Princess Natasha, played by the English stage star
Diana Wynyard, the Grand Duke Igor (C. Henry Gordon), and the celebrated court physician who tried in vain to cure the Czarovitch of his curious ailment, played by Edward Arnold. All these characters step from the pages of a few years ago to live anew.

"Rasputin and the Empress" is the most spectacular picture since the advent of the talkies. Great ceremonies in the Winter Palace in St.
Petersburg with gorgeously garbed thronghs, and the impressive celebration at the Kremlin with costumes and settings absolutely true to the originals, form a striking background for the tense drama of the story.

Richard Boleslavsky directed with dust skill and a sure knowledge.

CHILDREN AIDED

BAZAAR AT CONVENT OF PRECIOUS BLOOD

A three days bazaar held by the Sisters of the Precious Blood Convent in aid of their children's hospital, clinic, and orphanage, was formally opened by Lady Pollock at the Convent Building at Yuen Chow Street, Shamshuipo, yesterday afternoon.

The grounds were festooned, and laid out with a number of stalls providing many kinds of amusements, and also articles of seasonable and useful nature, for the most part consisting of needlework, made by the Sisters and their charges, and offered at prices within the range of the average purse.

Lady Pollock, who is the patroness of the function, was welcomed by Mr. Ngan Shingkwan and Mr. R. C. H. Lin, Hon.
President and Hon. Vice President respectively, and other officials on the committee of the bazaar. Subsequently she was conducted over the grounds and took a keen interest in the variety of attractive goods displayed.

In declaring the bazaar open, Lady Pollock drew attention to the worthy aims of the institution, supplying as it did an urgent need by the poorest classes of the Colony. She made a strong appeal for support from all sections of the community, and concluded by thanking the committee and Sisters for the kind invitation extended to her.

VERONOL POISONING.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH OF MRS. WILLIAMSON

London, Oct. 6.
An inquest was held to-day into the death of Mrs. Alice M.
Williamson, the famous novelist, who died last week.

The Coroner's jury returned a verdict of death due to veronol poisoning, accidentally administered by herself.—Reuters.

Mrs. Williamson (formerly Miss Livingston) collaborated with her husband in writing serial stories, and both became famous. She has also written many novels. Most of the work done in conjunction

WORLD CRISIS

A WAY OUT

By FREDERICK COPE, A.M.I.E.E.

Mr. Cope's striking articles on the world economic crisis which were recently published in the Hongkong Telegraph are now available in pamphlet form.

One of the features, repayng study, is the close similarity between the plan of reform suggested by this local writer, and certain aspects of the Roosevelt recovery programme.
The author's ideas are naturally far too advanced for active promotion at the present time, but they are particularly interesting in view of the fact that President Roosevelt, in striking out on a path of his own, has travelled in the same direction.

The pamphlet is one of forty-four pages and can be obtained from the South China Morning Post at a cost of

FIFTY CENTS

BANDITS ATTACK TRAIN

LATEST AFFAIRS NEAR NEWCHWANG

Tokyo, Oct. 3.
The story of a daring attack on a train spending to Newchwang from Kowpangtsa is related in press messages received here to-day from Mukden.

The attack occurred yesterday afternoon near Tienchungtang—roughly twenty miles northwest of Newchwang, and was led by the notorious bandit chieftain, Su Hui, who has eluded capture for many years.

Bringing the train to a standstill, the thief poured a fusillade of rifle fire into the coaches, with the result that one of the passengers was killed, 23 seriously injured and a score or so others slightly wounded.

After robbing the passengers of all their money, valuables and other possessions which they fancied, the bandits decamped, taking twenty persons as hostages.

CANTONESE LESSONS BY RADIO

Sir.—Several years ago lessons in Cantonese were broadcast over the radio by the Rev. Mr. H. R. Wells, which were deeply appreciated by myself and many others.

I am writing to express the hope, through your valued column, that the radio committee may be prevailed upon to arrange for Cantonese lesson to be given by Dr. Wells over the radio. Not merely young foreign business men in the Colony but many others would be benefited as well as amused by the characteristic witty manner of Dr. Wells in making the very great difficult Chinese language as simple for the learner as A.B.C.

NEW CONSTITUTION FOR AUSTRIA

Four Chambers to Replace Parliament

Vienna, Oct. 2.

The Vienna press to-day publishes some interesting details of the new Austrian Constitution which is being drawn up by Chancellor Dollfuss and Herr Ender, Minister for the Interior, and which is proposed to serve as a basis for the new corporative Austrian State.

It appears that the old Parliament will be replaced by four new Chambers, namely, National Council, Corporative Council, Council of the Federal States, and the Supreme State Council.

The National Council will comprise eighty elected deputies who will probably be divided among various political groups. Suffrage will be modified to the extent that the voting age will be raised to thirty years while a certain group of voters will be granted plural suffrage.

Members of the Corporative Council will be appointed by various economic and vocational bodies, co-operative societies, Chambers of Commerce and Agriculture and other organizations with workers and employers represented in equal numbers.

The Council of the Federal States will be composed of two delegates from each of the nine federal states, while the Supreme State Council will have twenty members appointed by the President of the Republic.

Law may be passed by the National Council with the approval of the Corporative Council, while all measures taken by the National Council may be vetoed by the joint vote of the other three Councils.

LORD MARLEY SYMPATHY PARTY

DEMONSTRATION BY CHINESE RADICALS

Shanghai, Oct. 4.

Chinese Radicals tried to hold a "meeting of sympathy with Lord Marley" yesterday evening, intending to hold a demonstration at six o'clock on the Bund, near Avenue Edward VII. Beyond one or two minor incidents, however, nothing untoward occurred. Police of both the International Settlement and the French Police stood by in case of trouble.

Beyond the distribution of pamphlets and throwing a firecracker into arickshaw, nothing of note happened, the crowd dispersing shortly after seven o'clock, having achieved nothing. The presence of the police probably acted as a deterrent, and, as an additional precaution, the police remained on duty at the scene of the meeting. Nothing further, however, was reported up to a late hour last night.
